Is Disease a Crime?

Not very long ago, a popular magazine published an editorial article in which the writer asserted, in substance, that all disease should be regarded as criminal. Certain it is, that much of the sickness and suffering of mankind is due to the violation of certain of Nature's laws. But to say that all sickness should be regarded as criminal, must appeal to every reasonable individual as radically wrong.

It would be harsh, unsympathetic, cruel, yes criminal, to condemn the poor, weak, over-worked housewife who sinks under the heavy load of household cares and burdens, and suffers from weaknesses, various displacements of pelvic organs and other derangements peculiar to her sex.

Frequent bearing of children, with its exacting demands upon the system, coupled with the care, worry and labor of rearing a large family, is often the cause of weaknesses, derangements and debility which are aggravated by the many household cares, and the hard, and never-ending work which the mother is called upon to perform. Dr. Pierce, the maker of that world-famed remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ills—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—says that one of the greatest obstacles to the cure of this class of maladies is the fact that the poor, over-worked housewife can not get the needed rest from her many household cares and labor to enable her to secure from the use of his "Prescription" its full benefits. It is a matter of frequent experience, he says, in his extensive practice in these cases, to meet with those in which his treatment fails by reason of the patient's inability to abstain from hard work long enough to be cured. With those suffering from prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion of the uterus or other displacement of the womanly organs, it is very necessary that, in addition to taking his "Favorite Prescription" they abstain from being very much, or for long periods, on their feet. All heavy lifting or straining of any kind should also be avoided. As much out-door air as possible, with moderate, light exercise is also very important. Let the patient observe these rules and the "Favorite Prescription" will do the rest.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound.

If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

A Positive CURE for CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm

Is quickly absorbed. Gives Relief at Once.

It cleanses, soothes heals and protects the diseased membrane. It cures Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size 10 cts. by mail.

Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THE CLOSING YEAR.

The year has but a few hours to its credit; atmidnight it will become a back number with all the joys and sorrows that it has brought. Tomorrow the world will, as it were, start over again—that is to repeat substantially what has been done during the past three hundred and sixty-five days. Bleak January will be followed by the uncertainties of February, the latter by the borean blasts of March, at the close of which buds will swell again, and other indications of approaching summer be manifested. "While the earth remaineth seed time and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease," was the promise to Noah, and such has ever been the case; hence the coming year will doubtless vary but little from the thousands that have preceded it.

The year which will close tonight has added its quota to the world's history. It has, however, brought to the birth only an average number of events. Some have been serious and others interesting, but nothing outside the regular order of annual happenings.

What has resembled an avalanche of events has occasionally been noticed, but when it is considered that the entire civilized world has been brought in touch by cables and wireless telegraphy, there is, after all, nothing more going on than has always been occurring among the many millions of inhabitants of the earth. The means of gathering news is so vast that nothing of any interest is missed by newspapers.

The most important international, national and State events are still fresh in the minds of most readers.

A large majority of the patrons of the Gazette are more concerned in local happenings than anything else, and especial care and labor have been used during the past year in recording what has actually occurred in Alexandria, as well as in making timely suggestions of what would enhance the city's interest.

While Alexandria has kept pace with the times, it has had difficulties with which to contend that have prevented it from forging ahead as many had hoped the city would at the beginning of the year now about to close. This has been brought about by causes over which its citizens have no control. There has, for instance, been but little building in the city during the year from the fact that material and labor have both soared beyond the reach of people of moderate means; hence but little beyond urgent work has been contracted for.

The business of the city, however, has by no means fallen off and merchants have manifested enterprise by advertising more freely than during past years, and they have naturally profited thereby. There is every reason to believe that trade would have been still further expanded had the railroad depots been allowed to remain in Alexandria. Their removal has been a serious setback to our merchants, but we hope they will rise superior to their difficulties and keep pace with the times notwithstanding the troubles they will have to surmount.

Alexandria had become the base of supplies for a large area of country when this misfortune came upon the city.

The city's commercial importance was being rapidly asserted, and its trade was being extended into many channels and in competition with neighboring cities. Alexandria is still holding its own and will doubtless continue its aggressiveness in efforts to still further extend its trade.

During the year several squares of vitrified brick roadway have been added to Alexandria and considerable sewer work prosecuted. Part of what will eventually become the cloaka maxima of the city has been constructed on Peyton and King streets. This will be continued north and west and in a few years, with its lateral branches, will afford sewerage to a large portion of the city, adding to the convenience of thousands and increasing the value of property.

The surest thermometers of the city's commercial importance are the banking institutions of Alexandria. These have been doubled during the past few years, and all are thriving and the bulk of their business is increasing daily.

Construction of a modern electric plant in this city is probably the most gratifying event to be credited to the year 1906. The city is now in a condition to furnish electricity for illuminating purposes as well as for power.

The city is now enjoying the best transportation service of its history. A double-track railway connects Alexandria with the capital of the country. During the year the new iron bridge across the Potomac, over which the tracks extend, was opened. Apart from this the ferry service between the two cities is all that could be desired.

The city, notwithstanding some of the vexations with which it has to contend, has much for which to be thankful, and by its citizens vieing Alexandria will continue to forge ahead.

THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.

The Gazette closes its 107th volume today. There is but little that can be said concerning the paper that has not been previously stated. As is well-known, it is one of the oldest journals in the country, its files running back almost to the revolutionary war. Copies of the Gazette dated in the first part of the last decade of the eighteenth century are occasionally unearthed in old buildings while the files proper extend back over one hundred years. Begun about 1783 or 1784, it has flourished in three centuries, and at the close of the year 1906 is as vigorous as of old and as much of an essential to the home and the counting house as ever.

The Gazette soon after its foundation became the most prominent newspaper in eastern Virginia. In fact it was the official journal for this entire Congressional district. It still circulates over the same area, but its circulation is by no means limited to a local field. The paper finds its way into nearly every State of the union, and is always welcomed as an old friend.

The make-up of the paper has changed but little in years. The title line, the Virginia coat-of-arms and other features which gave the Gazette its individuality many years ago have been retained for reasons which have ever been satisfactory to the publishers and readers. Discarding sensational and misleading headlines, it has presented ALL THE NEWS in a small space and in type that will not strain the eyes.

The Gazette receives the latest news daily from every portion of the civilized world. Eschewing verbosity, it extracts about all most people desire to know concerning current events and presents it to its patrons in a readable shape.

The paper has always been regarded as an excellent advertising medium and those who use its advertising columns invariably reap rich rewards.

The publishers intend during the coming year to labor to maintain the reputation of the paper, and in doing so will present the news of the world daily, while local happenings will, as ever, receive close attention.

There are many papers more bulky than the Gazette, but after they have been inspected, the handbill headlines removed and stripped of their useless verbage and crude cuts, it will be found that the bulk of the information imparted does not exceed that which the Gazette contains.

The Gazette will ever appeal to Alexandrians. They naturally desire to know the local happenings at the close of the day, and there is no paper that meets this want as well as the Gazette.

The paper had continued to flourish amid all the ups and downs of Alexandria. Its office has more than once been burned out, but, Phoenix-like, it has emerged from the ashes of fires kindled by predatory soldiers and has ridden all the storms which have occurred during its long career, whether national, State or city. From all that can be seen, the prospects for a continuance of its mission were never brighter.

ANOTHER chapter to the volume of railroad horrors during the year 1906 was added early last night when a train of empty cars ploughed into a densely crowded passenger train three miles from Washington on the Metropolitan Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The fatalities are at present unknown, but there is reason to believe that the number killed outright with those who have since died and others who have received fatal injuries will reach half a hundred. There have been a number of terrible railroad accidents in this and other countries during the past twelve months. Most trunk lines are double-tracked and block signals and air-brakes are used. Notwithstanding these safeguards, horrors continue to be added to horrors on the rail.

THE GAZETTE extends the compliments of the season to its many patrons and friends and wishes them all a happy and a prosperous New Year.

Death of the Baroness Burdett-Coutts.

Baroness Burdett-Coutts, who had been ill at her residence in London since Christmas Eve, is dead.

The death of Baroness Burdett-Coutts, occurring at the age of ninety-two years, besides depriving the country of one of its greatest and most famous philanthropists, removes from London a unique personality and an interesting social figure. As a link with the almost forgotten past, her life beginning during the reign of the Emperor Napoleon, she lived during the reigns of five British sovereigns. Inheriting an immense fortune, she so used it as to die beloved by the whole nation.

The Baroness Burdett-Coutts was one of the foremost of English women. She was an intimate and lifelong friend of the late Queen Victoria, and was one of the richest women in England. Her wealth was used principally to carry on her work to improve the condition of the poor, and as a philanthropist her name was world-wide.

Church and State.

When the French Senate Saturday resumed consideration of the Briand bill act, M. Gaudin de Villaine, in behalf of the opposition, moved to recommit it with instructions to reframe the measure on the lines of the Brazilian church and state separation law, which the Vatican has accepted.

The motion was defeated by 198 to 59 votes. Every effort to amend the act having been defeated by overwhelming majorities, the measure was finally passed exactly as it came from the Chamber of Deputies by 190 votes to 100.

The most spectacular fire seen on the East Side, New York, for a long time started shortly before 6 o'clock Saturday night in the four story brick building at No. 299 to 306 Water street, occupied by the National Biscuit Company, and did damage estimated at $200,000.

News of the Day.

Ex-United States Senator Caffery died in New Orleans last night aged 71 years.

The anti-pass, the pure food and the free alcohol laws go into effect tomorrow.

The Metropolitan Insurance Company is to erect a tower in New York to top off its new building, 50 stories or 700 feet high.

Mrs. Van Alstyne, of New York, has recovered her four-year-old boy, who was kidnapped, and will swear out warrants for her husband and his attorney on the charge of kidnapping.

Mrs. Eva I. Totten, aged 23, the wife of a man 82 years old, was shot and killed by Sidney Kaufman, aged 30, who afterward fatally wounded himself, in a room at a New York Hotel yesterday.

Thomas J. Bowman, one of the leading merchants of Pendleton county, W. Va., died at Franklin Saturday. He was a native of Shanandoah county and during the civil war served in the 23rd Virginia regiment.

Secretary Shaw, in a letter to a Nashville correspondent, declared that the Treasury in coming to the relief of the money market was not aiding stock gamblers, but was assisting legitimate business operations.

Senator Bailey carried Comanche county, Texas, on Saturday by an overwhelming vote, practically 4 to 1. His friends were celebrating with bonfires, pyrotechnics, speechmaking and brass bands Saturday night in the town of Comanche.

The President's New Year's reception at the White House will begin at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning and continue well on in the afternoon, concluding with the reception of the citizens of Washington, which will begin at 1 o'clock.

Spurned when the fact became known that he was a married man with a family, Joseph Wildermuth, of Salem, N. J., shot Miss Bessie Newkirk, a comely young girl of Alloway, Saturday evening and then turned the weapon on himself. Neither will die.

Mr. William H. White, for the past six years paying teller in the Canton National Bank, Baltimore, was arrested yesterday on the specific charge of embezzling $1,000 of the bank's funds on January 7, 1905. The total shortage is estimated at about $5,000.

The lynching statistics in the United States for 1906 show an increase of eight victims as compared to 1905, the total for the current year being seventy-three—one negro woman, three white men, sixty-nine negro men. There were no lynchings in Virginia during the year.

The conviction of Enrico Caruso, the Italian opera singer, on a charge of annoying a woman in the monkey house at Central Park, New York, was affirmed Saturday by Recorder Goff in the court of general sessions. Caruso's counsel at once announced that the case will be appealed to the appellate division of the Supreme Court.

Joe Patrillo, an Italian, Maggie Sullivan an American woman with whom he lived, and Lawrence Sullivan, 12 year old son of Maggie Sullivan, were murdered Saturday morning at a camp of laborers engaged in the double tracking on the Southern Railway, at Motleys, about 30 miles from Danville. Two Italians have been arrested.

A dispatch from Bristol, Tenn., says that a rear-end collision of freight trains at Limestone, on the Knoxville division of the Southern Railway, early yesterday morning, demolished several cars and smashed one of a number of handsome vestibuled coaches that were being hauled to Birmingham for use on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railway. Nobody was injured.

John G. Price, who has been under arrest in Philadelphia since December 8, has confessed that he murdered, on September 10, Mrs. Morris K. Lewis, the young wife of a traveling salesman. The crime, a most atrocious one, was committed in the home of Mrs. Charlotte Kelly, where Mrs. Lewis had apartments. The tragedy caused a sensation and astounded the police by its daring.

At a mass meeting of the citizens of Washington, held last night at the Columbia Theater, the action of the French government in attempting to confiscate the churches and property of Roman Catholics in France was bitterly arraigned. Speeches were made by Edgar H. Gans, of Baltimore; Maj. Edward T. McCrystal, of New York, Rev. John Van Schaick, and Rev. D. J. Stafford, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, of Washington.

Accident on Seaboard Air Line.

The Seaboard Air Line's fast mail, No. 32, northbound, from Atlanta to Richmond, crashed into a string of loaded freight cars at Peachland, a flag station, nineteen miles east of Monroe, N. C., late Saturday night, partially wrecking the passenger train and killing Engineer S. E. Maxwell, of Raleigh.

Running fifty miles an hour, Engineer Maxwell sighted the freight train as he rounded the curve near Peachland, and, with concern only for the possengers whose lives were in his care, he applied the emergency brakes in an effort to moderate the impending crash. The speed was reduced to ten miles an hour when the train struck, and the fireman jumped without being hurt.

Maxwell stuck to his post, was caught between the engine and tender, and slowly roasted to death in view of the rescuers. Helplessly pinned in an upright position, with both feet in the fire box, the brave man lived four hours, fully conscious, talking cheerfully to the rescuers, his last words being a message to his wife and child at Raleigh. No one else was hurt.

Declared to be Unconstitutional.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Dec. 31.—Most of the interest in the market this morning centered in the developments at the clearing house settlements, and news as to whether all clearing house sheets would go through or not was anxiously waited for, both on the floor of the exchange and on the street. It was current gossip in important circles that one house had borrowed $7,000,000 on Saturday and had taken over the accounts of two important firms handling live and large speculative accounts for some time, and it was thought that this arrangement had furnished enough relief to tide over the crisis without pronounced embarrassment. There was enough uneasiness to cause declines in a number of active issues. At the end of the first hour the majority of stocks showed slight losses compared with Saturday's final figures.

Another Railroad Horror.

One of the most horrible wrecks in the history of the Baltimore and Ohio occurred shortly after dark yesterday evening at the little station of Terra Cotta, where the Metropolitan branch of that system crosses the District of Columbia line about three miles north of Washington.

The regular evening train from Frederick, Md., was struck in a rear-end collision by a "deadhead" equipment train which had been picking up empty cars on the way south from Cumberland and was almost demolished, while practically every passenger in two coaches was either killed or injured.

The wreck occurred in the midst of a dense fog and the greatest confusion followed, making it almost impossible to obtain for several hours accurate information respecting the identity of the killed and injured.

Telephone messages were sent to the city and ambulances were quickly dispatched to the scene from the Soldiers' Home and all the hospitals. Superintendent Sylvester also ordered out the police reserves. A specially equipped train was quickly made up also, but did not get back to the city with the injured until 9 o'clock. The number killed is 44 and the number of injured about 80. Among those injured was B. N. Maywood of Alexandria county. The injured were taken to the hospitals in Washington for treatment.

In the darkness of the night it was impossible to determine the terrible havoc wrought by the freight engine. Those passengers in the forward coach, who were but slightly bruised, heard the groans of the dying and terribly wounded, and did what they could to give aid.

It was soon realized that but little could be done in the dark, with but few places to take the injured, and a number of the passengers started to walk to Brookland, a mile away.

The wreck occurred at 6:39 o'clock, about 26 minutes after the train was due at Terra Cotta.

The Frederick train had just arrived at that station and was standing under the bridge at the station, taking on and letting off passengers, when suddenly the engine of the equipment train, traveling at a lively speed, plowed into the passenger coaches. The rear coach of the Frederick train was torn into splinters and in the next instant the central, or second coach, was split open. The smoking car was only slightly damaged. The debris of the wreck did not ignite, but was torn and twisted and piled in indescribable fashion around and over the bodies of the dead and injured. The flying debris also injured those who were to take the train and others standing about the station. Some of the bodies of the dead were frightfully mutilated by the heavy car trucks of the demolished passenger coaches and their wheels. The dead were piled beside the tracks for a considerable distance and attention was concentrated upon the wounded, who were given temporary treatment and placed in the relief cars. Some of them who were not so seriously injured walked to the suburb of Brookland.

Superintendent Fitzgerald stated last night that an absolute block system prevails on the Metropolitan Branch, and that the accident was evidently due to a confusion of signals.

Today's reports have not curtailed the list of fatalties. It is now known that at least forty persons were killed and about eighty injured. Among the killed and injured were several Washingtonians.

Railroad men experienced in wrecks said that never before had they seen such mutilation. Many bodies were ground to pieces after being crushed in the wreckage. Men, women and children suffered a common fate in the last two coaches of the local, where the carnage was the most fearful.

The real horror of the disaster was made plain to the crowd of spectators when the work of gathering up the dead was undertaken when those of the victims who still had life in them were cared for. The right of way to the east of Terra Cotta was literally sprinkled with human remains. Bodies with the head crushed beyond recognition, with arms and legs torn and crumpled, or else huddled and smashed out of semblance to a human figure were discovered here and there in the darkness.

Victims were found piled beneath the splintered debris of the wrecked coaches, which had been so completely demolished that fragments of wood were twisted in the clothing and imbedded in the flesh. In the immediate vicinity of where the wrecked train finally came to a halt, some twenty bodies were found, most of them crushed beneath the wreckage. By some inexplicable happening, two freight cars, which had been in a siding at Terra Cotta, were swept along by the death-dealing engine, No. 2102, and were mixed up in the wreckage, adding to the difficulty of extricating the bodies.

Thirty-four victims of the wreck who had been killed outright reached the B. & O. station here shortly after one o'clock this morning. The remains were loaded in a baggage car. Ambulances and undertakers' wagons carried the bodies to the morgue, where they were laid in rows upon the floor to await identification.

The remains of the victims were mutilated in the most horrible manner. In a number of cases the features besides having been crushed and torn were caked with cinders through which the bodies had been dragged along the railroad track. Four sheets containing masses of arms, legs and mangled trunks were taken to the morgue. These fragments defied attempts at identification, and the clothing with which they were mixed up was so soaked in blood as to render no assistance to Morgue Master Schoenberger and his helpers in tabulating the articles found upon the bodies.

Dr. Butts, of the local health department, whose wife was among the killed, recognized her wedding ring as the only mark by which he could make the identification certain. Mrs. Butts had spent the day at her home in Maryland and Dr. Butts had been at the station awaiting the arrival of train No. 66 when he heard of the wreck.

The bereaved husband wept frantically when shown the ring worn by his wife. He was taken home by friends. The body of Elder Daily, of the Baptist Church, was identified by letters and cards and was recognized by J. C. Mc-

Donald, with whom the deceased was to have spent several days while preaching here. He had been on a preaching tour through Maryland and had addressed a congregation yesterday morning at Cumberland, Md. Mr. Daily formerly lived in Fairfax county, Virginia, and for the past year had lived in Newark, Ohio.

Mr. J. J. Murkland, of Washington, had both legs broken and received internal injuries. His wife was killed. Mr. Murkland is a brother of Miss Catharine Murkland, stenographer for Mr. C. C. Carlin, of this city.

Not a vestige of the wreck now remains. All night and during the early morning hours wrecking crews worked on the debris, and by 10 o'clock this morning it had all been cleared away. More than 500 laborers were employed in the work.

Inquiry by police officers later today indicated that the wreck was possibly due to the fact that the Frederick local was some eight minutes behind time, while the extra was somewhat ahead of its schedule.

No. 66 was due at Terra Cotta at 6:20 p. m., but was behind several minutes. Had it been on time it might have kept out of the way of engine 2102 until the latter slowed down for the Washington yards.

Hildebrand, the engineer of the extra, is known as a careful man. He had reason to believe there was a clear track ahead of him. The night was one of the worst kind for train operation. A thick heavy fog obscured all signal lights.

Witnesses who stood on the Terra Cotta station platform told policemen today that, in their opinion, the extra train was running above sixty miles an hour. At this rate of speed, Hildebrand had no chance to slow down before hitting No. 66 even if he had discerned the red lights on the station semaphore and the tail lights on the last coach of the local.

Alleged Cause of Shrinkage.

(Copyrighted by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

New York, Dec. 31.—In an interview granted Marlen E. Pew, of the Newspaper Enterprise Association, John D. Rockefeller, spoke as follows:

"In making inventories for the year just ending, a great many business men in this country will find that they have suffered a loss amounting to millions of dollars due to shrinkage of value of their share holding during the twelve months just past.

"This is in the face of over great prosperity, the greatest era of prosperity in the history of our country.

"Why should stock values be lower today than they were a year ago?

"I can only account for it by the attacks made upon corporate interests during the last year or two years—unwarranted attacks that go to tear down the structures that have been reared by our people through great effort, energy, and patience.

"The effect of these attacks was, of course, first felt by capitalists, and then, through them, the effect was felt by the debtor classes.

"The man with the dinner pail will be the next to suffer—the workingman whose wages are now higher than ever before in our history; 20 per cent higher, I believe the statistics say, than they were five or six years ago.

"When stock values are depresiated as at present, capitalists generally begin to take in their loans, dispose of their collateral and then the debtor classes feel the depression. When the debtor classes feel the depression they retrench-ed and then it is the workingman's to suffer. I believe January inventories will be a surprise to many people."

Daring Train Robber.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 31.—At 2:40 o'clock this morning as Seaboard Air Line train No 81 approached La Crosse, Va, about seventy five miles south of Richmond, one of the most daring hold-ups that ever took place in Virginia occurred. A passenger, apparently about twenty-five years old, who boarded the train at Richmond, walked into the Pullman car and took a seat in the smoking compartment. The conductor and porter of the Pullman were in the day coach at the time. As the porter returned the stranger placed a pistol to his head and forced him to lock both doors of the sleeper, after which, masking himself, he went through the car holding up half asleep passengers at the point of his pistol. He had secured eight hundred dollars from a passenger when a Pullman conductor forced his way in and attempted to arrest the thief. Quick as a flash, the robber shot the conductor, and pulling the emergency brake cord, stopped the train and disappeared in the woods. The conductor's wound is not serious, he only having been shot through the arm.

Ex-President Cleveland's Condition.

Princeton, N. J., Dec. 31.—There is no improvement today in the condition of former President Grover Cleveland, who has been seriously ill for over a week. Dr. John N. Carnochan, the attending physician, however, hopes for Mr. Cleveland's recovery within a week. The acute attack of indigestion from which he is suffering is not yielding easily to treatment.

Mrs. Cleveland stated this afternoon that Mr. Cleveland's condition was not at all serious and that he was only suffering from a slight attack of indigestion.

The President.

Charlottesville Va., Dec. 31.—Today is the last day of the present stay of President Roosevelt and his family at their country lodge in Albemarle county, Virginia. The weather permitting, the President Dr. Rixey and others will be out most of the day hunting, the President being inclined to bag at least one wild turkey before his return to Washington. Packing, preparatory to the start for Washington, tonight, is now in progress.

Will Not be Married.

Paris, Dec. 31.—An announcement made by W. E. Corey, head of the Steel Trust, today settles the question that he will not be married to Mabelle Gilman, the actress. The denial declares that there will be no marriage "in the immediate future" or doing his present visit to Europe.

Arrest of Social Democrats.

Kieff, Russia, Dec. 31.—All members of the local committee of the social democrats consisting of forty men were arrested today.

Cotton Speculator Missing.

New York, Dec. 31.—His last dollar having been lost in stock and cotton speculation, Gustav Adolph Maiyer, formerly of Galveston Texas, is missing. Today the police are searching for him although it is feared he has carried out a threat to commit suicide.

Maiyer has wasted a fortune estimated at over $100,000. Saturday Mr. Maiyer received a letter saying he intended to jump from a Hoboken ferry. So far, the body has not been reported. He was seen last Friday.

Fire in New York.

New York, Dec. 31.—Fire in the garage of Col. John Jacob Astor in west Twenty-eighth street today destroyed three valuable automobiles belonging to Col. Astor and nearly caused the loss of several lives. Soon after the fire started the flames exploded a quantity of gasoline. Occupants of apartments above the garage were cut off from escape and were carried out by police and firemen.

Death of General Barriger.

Raisuli Fleeing.

Tangier, Morocco, Dec. 31.—Raisuli, the notorious bandit chief, who has terrorized this section of the country for so long, is at last fleeing into the interior a fugitive with a price on his head.

What the New Year Should Bring.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 31.—In answer to a question as to what the New Year ought to bring William Jennings Bryan gave out the following statement: "I know of no greater economic need than that we should make progress toward removal of the inequalities in the distribution of wealth annually created to the end that each citizen may receive as nearly as possible a reward commensurate with his contribution to the public weal."

Virginia News.

Collicello, formerly one of the most popular summer resorts in Rockingham county, was badly damaged by fire a few nights ago.

William T. Garrison, of West Fall's Church, and Miss Elizabeth Harman, of Wiehle, were married at Vienna Saturday by Rev. P. W. Crosby.

Wm. Jenkins, nine years old, was accidently shot and killed by his brother Charles at the home of their father, Jno. B. Jenkins, a wealthy lawyer, of Norfolk, Saturday.

President Roosevelt and family attended services in an Episcopal Church, near Pine Knot yesterday, their country home, in Virginia. They will return to Washington tonight.

Judge Scott, in the Richmond City Court on Saturday appointed Thomas C. Gordon, receiver for the affairs in Virginia of the German National Insurance Company of Illinois.

In all probability Dr. E. A. Alderman, the president of the University, will recommend summer lectures at the next meeting of the board of visitors, which will be held shortly.

Milton Courtwright Elliott, of Norfolk, and Miss Lucy Hamilton Cooke, the University of Virginia, were married Saturday night in the chapel at that institution, Rev. Harry B. Lee, rector of Christ Church Charlottesville officiating.

Luther Ashby, aged ten years, while out hunting at Scottsburg, Halifax county, Friday, with companions, had his head shot off. His companions, becoming frightened at what had occurred, left the body in the woods all night. The shooting was accidental.

Ill health and grief drove Captain Philip M. Snider, seventy-six years of age, for fifty years passenger conductor of the Southern Railroad, to send a bullet crashing through his brain while he lay across the grave of his wife, in Hollywood Cemetery, Richmond yesterday morning. Death was instantaneous.

William H. Johnson, aged seventy-eight, died at his home at Occoquan, Wednesday. He was a native of Occoquan. For a number of years he was employed at the Department of Agriculture at Washington. Three daughters, Mrs. Harry Slack of Occuquan; Mrs. Thomas Bohannon, of Washington, and Mrs. J. B. Beach, postmistress at Occoquan, survive him.

The funeral of Bishop A. Coke Smith, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which took place yesterday afternood from Epworth Church, Norfolk, was attended by hundreds of friends of the dead Bishop, all denomination contributing to the vast crowd that followed his remains to the grave from the church which did not begin to hold all who braved the weather to pay their last tribute. The services at the church were conducted by Bishop Wilson, of Baltimore assisted by Bishop Granberry and the Rev. George E. Booker, pastor of the church.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, Dec. 31.

The end of the year 1906 finds the Treasury Department in a most prosperous condition.

It possesses today in accumulated surpluses and unexpended balances what may be properly termed a surplus of $244,000 000. This is made up of $147,000,000 for which the Treasury Department has no present use and which for this reason has been placed on deposit in national banks for the benefit of trade and commerce; of $72,000,000 which represents the Treasury's working balance today; and of an actual surplus of $25,000,000 representing the excess of receipts over expenditures which has accumulated since July 1, the beginning of the present fiscal year.

While this looks pretty good for the close of the calendar year the indications point to an almost equally good showing for the end of the fiscal year, June 30th next, although in the meantime there will be several important Treasury transactions.

The operation of most magnitude will be, of course, the refunding or redemption of the outstanding four per cent bonds. They amount to a little over $115,000,000 and they are subject to redemption on and after July 1, 1907.

On account of the Treasury's large money holdings it was suggested at the Department today that the government would probably exercise its option and redeem the bonds in cash rather than resort to refunding. There are about $30,000,000 of these four per cents. now held in the Treasury as security for deposits or circulation, mostly the latter. In order that the circulation of the banks may not be decreased through having no other bonds to put up as security, the Treasury will offer for sale $30,000,000 more of the Panama canal bonds. This will be the second sale of this issue and the offer will be made sometime in May or June.

According to the way the receipts have been running ahead of expenditures, and making a reasonable estimate for the future, there will be a surplus earned between now and July 1 of at least $35,000,000. Of the government moneys now on deposit in national banks notice has already been given that the banks must return $42,000,000 after February 1st.

The fact that the Treasury will still hold at the end of the fiscal year such a large amount of the people's money, after having met all expenses besides paying out in cash the enormous amount of $115,000,000, is a strong argument in favor of additional legislation to enable the channels of trade to have more of the taxes collected without the necessity of compelling the Secretary of the Treasury to resort to unusual methods to do so.

Since July 1, this year, the customs have realized $164,000,000 or $14,000,000 more than in the same period last year, and the internal revenue taxes $137,000,000 or $10,000,000 more than last year.

NOTES OF INTEREST.

During the calendar year ending today there was collected in the Police Court fines amounting to $5,004.75. This is the largest sum ever collected in any one year for fines. It is also $1,329.75 in excess of 1905 when the amount was $3,675. The chain gang expenses was also greater than the prior year, being $1,493, a sum much in excess of the average, or any one year during the past few, yet not so much as in many years prior to 1897. During the two fiscal years May 31, 1895, the fines collected in the Mayor's court amounted to $5,422 20; the chain gang expenses during the same period were $2,806 72. During the two fiscal years ending May 31, 1897, the fines collected by the Mayor amounted to $4,426.09, and the chain gang expenses during the same period were $3,198.50. During the two years ending May 31, 1904, the receipts from fines collected by the Mayor amounted to $7,314.67; the chain gang expenses during the same two years amounted to $1,902.39. During the last two fiscal years ending May 31, 1906, the fines collected by Police Justice Caton amounted to $7,909; the chain gang expenses were $1,683.21 for the same two years. The Police Court was first presided over by a Police Justice in February, 1904. During the first two full fiscal years ending May 31, 1906, as shown above, the fines amounted to $7,909, a monthly average of $329 50. The fines collected in the Mayor's court beginning June 1, 1902, and ending February 1, 1904, the twenty months preceding the Police Justice's term, amounted to $6,231.72, or a monthly average of $311.58 In the next twenty months immediately following the time when the Mayor's Court ceased collecting fines the fines paid into the Police Court were $6,705.63 or a monthly average of $335.23.

The total amount of insurance paid by agents in this city for losses within the city limits during the year was $4,512 as against $6,890 last year. The most expensive fire this year was that at the shipyard on October 15 which caused a loss to the Westchester Insurance Company of New York, of which Messrs. M. B. Harlow & Co. are the agents, of $2,608, though the fire loss amounted to $3,500.

There are 3,152 water takers as against 3,075 last year. During the year 1,526 feet of 6-inch mains were laid.

The school permits issued this year numbered 1,863—last year 1,969.

During the year 66 liquor licenses were issued; last year there were 65.

There are 1,333 gas consumers in the city and the gas consumption is increasing annually; last year there were 1,220 consumers.

The alarms of fire during the year numbered 62 and the fire department was in service 18 hours and 30 minutes. Last year there were 74 alarms and 16 hours and 40 minutes of service.

There were 405 prisoners confined in the city jail during the year—103 white and 302 colored, eight of which were United States prisoners. Last year 347 prisoners were confined in the jail.

During the year 1,824 arrests were made by the police officers and there were 1,223 lodgers at the station house. Last year there were 1,792 arrests and 1,578 lodgers.

During the year City Engineer Dunn issued 63 building permits—34 for new buildings to cost $56,200 and 29 permits for repairs and alterations to cost 8,203, making a total of $64,400, as against $86,203 last year. There was less building in Alexandria this year than for a long time past, the high price of the material and labor being given as the reason.

In the Corporation Court this year 557 deeds were recorded; 85 suits were entered; 25 wills recorded; 26 administrators appointed; 51 charters granted, and 475 marriage licenses issued. In the Circuit Court 18 suits were entered and 4 wills recorded.

The total amount of flour inspected by Deputy Idspector R. H. Hancock for the year was 25,821 barrels and bags, as against 24,140 last year.

The deaths occurring in this city during the year, including those who were making their last earthly homes in the Poor House, numbered 318. This is an increase of 10 as compared with 1905 when the death roll numbered 308. The record includes children, boys and girls, who lived but a few short hours, as well a those who had neared the century mile stone. It is said that Alexandria has had as decided increase in population If this is so the death rate is low. In 1905 the deaths were, whites 171, colored 127. Yet the death rate is low, certainly so among the whites. In 1904 the total deaths were 345.

Local Matters.

Weather Probabilities.

Catholic Benevolent Legion.

O'Kane Council, No. 434, Catholic Benevolent Legion, at their meeting yesterday afternoon, elected the following officers: John D. Normoyle, president; Sylvester A. Breen, vice president; James Roche, chancellor; Francis T. Quinn, secretary; Robert L. Wenzel, treasurer; Rev. Father H. J. Cutler, chaplain; M. J. McFarland, collector; James P. Quinn, orator; John G. Eberhart, marshal; Michael Creegan, sentinel, and Edward Quinn, sr., J. Harry Rice, and Michael Downey, trustees.

The following resolution was adopted: Whereas the people of France have been deprived of the right to worship God according to the dictates of their conscience and have been deprived of their property by the party in power; be it resolved that O'Kane Council, No. 434, Catholic Benevolent Legion of Alexandria, Va., does hereby tender to its fellow-Catholics of the country of Lafayette its sincere sympathy, and trusts that now that they are awakening they will soon place at the head of the republic true Frenchmen who believes that "Liberty, Equality and "Justice" should mean something.

Slower Schedules.

The new Southern Railway schedule, which lengthens the time for all long trips by two hours, goes into effect tomorrow. It is said the present schedule is too fast. General Manager Ackert says that it is necessary to make this change in order to handle the rapidly increasing traffic.

"Four years ago," said Mr. Ackert, "the Southern had only 500 engines, while today more than 1,500 are necessary to conduct the company's business. On the present schedule trains are constantly behind time. They are supposed to run faster than they possibly can, when the large number operated is taken into consideration. Through the South the single trackage prevails. It is plain that no railroad can reach perfection until the single track has been superseded by double tracks. The Southern is pushing this work as quickly as possible, and before three years our entire system will be equipped with the double tracks. Then better time can be made, and the present schedule for through trains will be restored."

Charged with Murderous Assault.

Constable E. J. Pennypacker, of St. Elmo, Alexandria county, yesterday afternoon lodged at the station house in this city a young Italian whose name is supposed to be Dominic Buzze, whom he had arrested for alleged assault and shooting with intent to kill. The constable reported that Dominic and three other Italians, who succeeded in eluding arrest, engaged in a shooting match between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of the highway bridge, a short distance north of this city. So far as known none of the men was hurt, but fully twenty shots were fired. The prisoner was turned over to the Alexandria county authorities today.

People who were in the neighborhood of St. Asaph Junction last night say the shooting was renewed after dark.

The Banks Case.

Howard Banks, colored, sentenced to be hanged at the city jail, January 11 next, for the murder of Thomas Etzey, colored, through his counsel, Machen & Moncure, will endeavor to secure a commutation of sentence, the idea of taking the case to the Court of Appeals having been abandoned. The counsel hope to secure a sentence of life imprisonment for Banks. Mr. Brent, however, says he could not conscientiously indorse such an application or take any part in an effort along that line, after having asked the jury for a verdict of murder in the first degree. Should the Governor decline to interfere, Banks will be executed in the city jail yard on next Friday week.

Attempt to Wreck Train.

An attempt was made Saturday to wreck train No. 33, known as the Florida Express, the same train which carried the ill-fated car of President Spencer and his party at the time of the big wreck at Lawyers on Thanksgiving Day. The scene of the attempted wreck was at Whittles, about twenty miles north of Danville. The train was running about twenty-five miles an hour, when the engine ran into a pile of rocks that had been placed, it is thought deliberately, on the track. The front wheels of the locomotive jumped the track and all of the passengers were more or less shaken up. Railway detectives are now at work on the case.

Inquest.

An inquest was held yesterday by Dr. Moore, coroner, over the remains of the unknown colored man who was found in a dying condition near the Union station from injuries supposed to have been received early Saturday morning in either falling from or being struck by a northbound train. In the absence of material witnesses the coroner adjourned the jury subject to his call.

Will Resign.

It is understood that Mr. Harry Hantzmon, superintendent of the city gas works, will accept the position of superintendent of the Charlottesville gas works recently offered him, and will tender his resignation to the City Council at the meeting on January 8. The many friends of Mr. Hantzmon in this city will regret to learn that he will take this step.

Watch Meetings.

The death of the old and the advent of the New Year will be observed tonight by watch-night services in Trinity M. E. Church and at the Free Methodist Church. Following an annual custom many of the organizations of this city will also observe the occasion and the bells will be tolled and rung as usual.

Death of an Alexandrian.

Mr. Jonah H. White, a native of this city, died in New York on Saturday last. His remains will be brought to this city for interment. The deceased was a brother of Mr. B. C. and the late Charles and Joseph W. White. He was 75 years old, and leaves a widow.

Personal.

Mrs. S. G. Brent and Miss Jean Brent assisted Mrs. W. S. Hoge at a beautifully appointed tea Saturday afternoon in Washington to introduce her daughter, Miss Mary Hoge.

Rev. Father Cutler was taken suddenly ill in the sacristy at St. Mary's Church last night during the services and had to be assisted to the rectory. Today he has somewhat improved.

Mrs. P. J. Dempsey has returned from a visit to her daughter in Norfolk.

Rev. J. H. S. Ewell, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, was on Saturday evening the recipient of a substantial sum tendered him by a number of his friends in a large purse. Written across the purse was "From your friends." The donation was a great surprise to Rev. Mr. Ewell.

Mr. Lloyd Uhler, who spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Uhler, has returned to Pittsburg, where he is in business.

Mrs. Sallie Hopper and Mr. Stewart Hopper, of Baltimore, Md., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Smoot, on Prince street.

Mrs. Thomas S. Martin, wife of Senator Martin, will be one of the ladies who will assist Mrs. Roosevelt in receiving at the White House on New Year's day.

Mr. Arthur Penn, of this city, who has been connected with the Southern Railway for some years, will leave January 9 for the Isthmus of Panama to accept a position with the Isthmian Canal Commission.

At the Christmas celebration of the Sunday school of the Methodist Protestant Church last Friday night Mr. N. S. Greenaway, the popular superintendent, was presented with several testimonial.

The marriage of Mr. Horace A. Mudd and Miss Goldie E. Hicks, both of this city, on November 26 last, has just been announced.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

John Allen, colored arrested by Officers Knight and Ferguson charged with assaulting Rosetta Kitts with a knife, was fined $10.

Henry Washington, colored, arrested by Officers Lyles and Garvey charged with abusive language towards Lewis Rosenblock, was dismissed.

Thomas Stanton, who was arrested by Officer Beach charged with assaulting Lena Stanton, was dismissed.

New Year's Day.

Tomorrow, New Year's Day, will be a legal holiday. The banks and public offices will be closed, the postoffice will observe Sunday hours and many of the places of business will be closed after the morning hours. A number of citizens will keep "open house" but the custom of paying New Year calls is gradually dying out. The usual number of Alexandrians will go over to Washington, some to attend the President's reception or to look at the crowd that attends.

The Churches.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather the churches yesterday, as a rule, were attended by comparatively small congregations. The pulpit of the Second Presbyterian Church was filled by Rev. Dr. Wills, of Washington, and that of St. Mary's Church at night by Rev. Father Quill. In the others services were conducted by the resident clergy. In several of the churches the Christmas music was repeated.

Winter Schedule.

The new winter schedule of the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railway Company, operating the line of steamers between Washington, this city, landings on the lower Potomac river and Baltimore, has gone into effect and commencing today only one trip each week will be made. The two-boat schedule to Baltimore, it is expected, will be resumed about March 1.

The Weather.

The last days of the year 1906 have been gloomy. Fog and rain have prevailed since last week. The weather which prevailed yesterday kept most people within doors. The air was charged with moisture and the temperature was mild. About six o'clock this morning there were heavy downpours of rain, and showers have fallen at intervals during the day.

Funerals.

The funeral of Mrs. Ruth L Thompson, wife of Mr. Heber J. Thompson, took place from her home, 313 Wilkes street, at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. P. P. Phillips, rector of St. Paul's Church, and the interment was in Union Cemetery.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Miss Bertha R. Peake, of Braddock Heights, near this city, was among those injured in the wreck near Washington.

A dense fog hung over the Potomac from Saturday night until an early hour this morning. Steamboats experienced great difficulty in moving up and down the river. The steamer Calvert of the Baltimore line remained at this port all night in consequence of the fog.

The northbound electric train No. 94, heavily loaded with theatre-goers, leaving Alexandria at 7:15 Saturday night, in charge of Conductor Kelley and Motorman A. F. Clift, jumped the tracks between Payton and West streets, due to the spreading of the rails. No damage was done, as the train was proceeding very slowly. The car was soon replaced by the train crew and proceeded to Washington, arriving there only twenty-five minutes late.

The handsome doll which has been on exhibition in the window of Mr. R. E. Knight's store was won by Mr. Henry Lilly, who presented it to little Virginia Keith, on Cameron street. The doll was valued at twelve dollars.

Mr. Rozier Cleveland, of Fairfax county, while at work on the new proctor's building at the Episcopal High School, fell from the building to the ground today and was badly injured.

During the month the Clerk of the Corporation Court recorded 43 deeds and issued 35 marriage licenses—22 to white and 13 to colored persons.

The amount of flour inspected by R. H. Hancock, deputy inspector, for the fourth quarter ending December 31 was 5,141 barrels.

Death From Lockjaw

never follows an injury dressed with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Its antiseptic and healing properties prevent blood poisoning. Chas. Oswald, merchant, of Kensselaersville, N. Y., writes: "It cured Seth Burch, of this place of the ugliest sore on his neck I ever saw." Cures Cuts, Wounds, Burns and Sores. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

Dire Prophecies.

Edmund Scribner Stevens, of Washington, a student of astrology, in a statement yesterday added Charleston, S. C., and St. Petersburg to the list of 10 leading cities of the world which he prophesied were to be destroyed the coming year.

"I'm informed," he announced, "that a Mohammedan uprising will occur when King Menelik, of Abyssinia dies, which will be in October. Raisuli will overcome the French in Tangiers and Emperor William will declare war against England. Famine, pestilence and the sword will follow."

He says that 1907 will be a year of jubilee and redemption and he makes the following specific prediction:

"Freedom for Ireland and home rule for Poland in April or May; death of the Shah of Persia in May; war in Asia Minor in April; arbitration of capital and labor troubles in the United States in June; home rule for Scotland in July; sinking of the Island of Manhattan into the sea in July; earthquakes in Philadelphia and Bohemia in August, and uprisings in France and Italy at the same time and war in Porto Rico and Cuba in September.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills quickly drive the poisons from the system and thus afford relief. A week's treatment for 25c. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co, 401 King

Accident on Southern Railway.

Two persons were killed and two more injured in a big freight wreck on the Southern Railway yesterday afternoon near Chatham, about 20 miles north of Danville. The killed (two boys) and injured are said to have been stealing rides.

The two dead boys left Danville several days ago for a tramp. The wreck was caused by several cars composing the train jumping the track.

The accident occurred at a sharp curve at about 4 o'clock, the time when a large number of passenger trains were en route South.

Following The Flag.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines, health was the most important consideration. Willis T. Morgan, retired Commissary Sergeant U. S. A., of Rural Route 1, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now, in New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and all lung diseases." Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
